Forty Minutes of Muddy Football Finds Rivals Emerging Without Scores.

Willis Is Elected

Prescott Willis, left tackle on the Western High School footthe Western High School 100t-ball team during the past year, was elected captain for 1916 | after yesterday's Western-Cen-tral football game. Willis is seventeen years old, stands five feet ten and a half inches and weighs 155 pounds. He was substitute guard last season having never played football having never played football before. Hard work gained him a regular berth this season and consistent effort made him one of the most reliable players in the series.

The Army and Navy Prep School and St. Albans will battle today for the prep school football title of the District on Satterlee Field. The large gathering of fans as the game promises to be a hard fought af fair from every angle. The elevent are fairly evenly matched in weight

The A. N. P. eleven coached by Frank Newberry has had an unusually successful season. The season was started with a victory over the Gilman Country School. Eastern and Central were defeated, Episcopal won from the Connecticut Avenue School, while the Georgetown Preps were handily defeated.

Macdonald and Peck punted frequently with honors about even. The ends were unable to do themselves justice, although Johnny Saxon. Carrai's end, and John Mackall. Western's captain, shone conspicuously, Robrer and Belcher also played consistently.

"Buck" Censtadt sustained a distincted shoulder and was forced to retire. Molly Roberts was removed from the contest in the first quarter He wore no headquard and was humped so hard that he failed to get his bearings, and Referee Magoffin halted the contest long enough to have Coach Thomas take a look at him. Roberts appeared all right today.

At Albans has piled up huse scores on opponents, having gained ton honors among the schools in scoring. The team lost its opening battle to Western, but defeated Gliman, Marston and Charlotte Hall by overwhelming scores.

The Army and Navy team will condeaver to stoo Brewer and Wallace today while the St. Albans eleven will concentrate their efforts in checking Watters and Wicks, two of the begins players on the scholastic gridiron this season.

Another prep school battle scheduled for today is that between Episconal Has for today is that between Episconal Has for the Virginia State prof title. Neither team has been bowed in defeated every Washington school it has faced this season. Tech Western, Central and the Army and Navy Preps have been beaten in turn.

hankers. The invasion of Mannatan by the Feds argain nothing to us. Neither does the attitude of organized baseball. What has organized baseball to do with it? Captain Huston went on spiritedly. 'It is our money that is being hazarded, not that of organized baseball break its neck to help us after we cast in our strength with it? Did our own associates of the American League go out of their way to strengthen the weak Yankee team last year? 'Our colleagues have a lot of license to lend us advice as to where we should build or where we shouldn't, when they are so interested in our welfare that they have refused absolutely time and time again to sell us substitute players who, of no use to them, might possibly have strengthened our team. We asked no charity of them; we were willing to pay fancy prices for their excess bag gage. Why, if our colleagues are so concerned over our personal safety, did they heap up obstacles toward our team's building up to a prominent position by allowing the three strongest clubs in the American League to curner the market on stars? When our colleagues can answer that question satisfactorily they may have some better right to advise our administration.'

ning Expected to Win Contest for Harvard.

BOSTON, Nov. 20.-Thousands had HOSTON, Nov. 20.—Thousands had been poured or 'vere pouring into Boston early today for the real football classic of the year in the annual struggle between Harvard and Yale. With coaches and trainers hovering near, the two teams were secluded in suburban hotels. They were receiving final instructions, and though no championship is at stake, and both combinants have been roundly licked earlier in the year, a fight from whistle to whistle was promised in the Stadium

The old Yale Buildog spirit asserted itself last Saturday against Princeton. The well-oiled, smooth running Harvard
